Nixon Asks Congress To Approve Revised Legal Aid For Disadvantaged

By Louise E. Wyche

Washington (NBNS)--President Nixon has officially asked Congress to create an independent corporation to give legal assistance to the poor and disadvantaged.

In his message to the Congress, Nixon called for an appropriation of $71.5 million for legal services, the same amount the program is now receiving as a part of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Calling for creation of the Independent Legal Services Corporation, the President basically submitted the same bill as that which he vetoed last year because he felt the Congress put too many restrictions on the selection of the governing board in an effort to make it bipartisan.

Funding for the present legal services program runs out at the end of the current fiscal year, June 30, but the President is hopeful that the bill will be back on his desk for his signature by mid-June.

The President has ordered the demise of the legal services program under OEO, effective June 30, but a federal judge has ruled that the Administration must stop dismantling the OEO program. In the ruling, the judge said the power to dismantle the program rested solely with Congress since the project has been authorized to operate through mid-1975.

The Congress has, however, only given the agency enough money to last it until June, which is the same procedure employed for all other federal agencies and major programs.

Generally, the President has defined those persons eligible for the legal services program and banned only aid for criminal defense. The development of the program and other standards will basically be left up to the eleven-member board of trustees. The board, under the President's proposed legislation, would be composed of no more than six members of any political party, with six to eleven members of the bar.

The President had been counting on fast action on the bill because of the dismantling he had slated for OEO, but with the delay of that it may be some time before a bill acceptable to both sides is approved.

Since a delay would have meant a lapse of free legal assistance, the President was counting on a fast resolution of the problems posed by opponents of the measure.

To Be Tried Fourth Time

Washington (NBNS)--The United States Supreme Court has refused, without comment, to block the fourth trial of four Black youths charged with the fatal stabbing of a New York City clothing store owner in 1964.

The New York Court of Appeals reversed one conviction and two other trials ended in hung juries.

The defendants--Wallace Baker, William Craig, Ronald Felder and Walter Thomas--are now scheduled to be retried in State Supreme Court in Manhattan.

Before we settle down to business I want to tell you about a pamphlet or publication titled "Plans for World Improvement." It was written in 1945 and published by d'Angelo Publishing Co. of Monterey. It is quite a piece of art, to say the least. From the first sentence it will keep you spellbound. It starts:

"I am Motorlin, and have been recently assigned to duties relative to the Earth Planet and the New Order that is now being born upon it. I came here from a very large Holy City located much nearer to the Planet Jupiter than to Earth. A group of about five thousand of us have been studying and preparing for many years for this assignment. We know that when the Earth Planet reached this place in her evolutionary experiences we would be assigned to her."

From that moment on this masterpiece of literature describes the duties of each group of people who have fifty years to put this planet in shape. Those fifty years are from 1945 to p995. This is the year 1973 and some of their assignments have already been accomplished.

One such inhabitant named Oloha says, "My department is for the purpose of establishing planetary unity in all types of creative arts and to arrange for exchange of artists and their works in all countries."

Further on she says: "It is absolutely as necessary for everyone to feed their consciousness upon Beauty as it is to feed the body food."

Before that she had said "When humans learn the art of treating their physical bodies and brains with enough respect to give them proper rest and nourishment, changes of view and atmosphere, pleasing recreation and interests, they will be surprised at how quickly and

Dr. Reeves Is Mourned

Washington--Political and civil rights leaders are mourning the death of Dr. Frank D. Reeves, a longtime political and civil rights activist who was a close personal advisor to President John F. Kennedy.

Reeves, 57, died recently following a six-week confinement due to a stroke.

He had a long and distinguished career in the field of Democratic politics, education, law and civil rights.

After becoming the first Black to be elected Democratic national committeeman from the District of Columbia in 1960, Reeves worked actively to help then Senator John Kennedy in the Democratic presidential primary and seconded the nomination for him at the Democratic convention.

Once Kennedy became President, he appointed Reeves, who had traveled with him as a minorities advisor in his campaign, to a position at the White House as special assistant.

A Howard University graduate, Reeves was associated with its Law School for 30 years. He served on the Howard University Board of Trustees from 1961-1966. Beginning in 1940, Reeves joined Thurgood Marshall as an assistant counsel to the NAACP and was involved in most of the major civil rights cases handled by the NAACP and the National Conference of Black Lawyers.

In 1954, he was one of the counsels in the cases which led to the historic school desegregation decisions by the Supreme Court.

Offer Mother's Day Idea

Take the American custom of treating mother to dinner, add a CARE meal for hungry children overseas in her honor and you have the recipe for doing something different this Mother's Day.

For example, a $5 contribution in the name of your mother can provide a full lunch for 450 children at a antrition center; $10 serves 900. In turn, your mother will receive an attractive CARE card to notify her of your "special tribute on Mother's Day."

The card will be mailed directly to your mother or to you, as you request. The message is equally appropriate for grandmothers, mothers-in-law and mothers of friends. Contributions should be sent to Mother's Day Plan, CARE, Inc., 444 Market Street, San Francisco CA 94111.

Minimum Wage, Overtime Proposals Are Attacked By Black Trade Unionists

Washington, D.C.--The Coalition of Black Trade Unionists says the Nixon Administration's minimum wage and overtime proposal is "anti-Black, anti-white, anti-brown and fundamentally anti-worker."

The Coalition's national steering committee responded to testimony by Labor Secretary Peter Brennan calling for an increase in the federal minimum wage from $1.60 to $2.30 an hour over three years--but excluding government employees, keeping most other service employees at a lower level and providing a "sub-minimum" lower wage for workers 19 years of age and under.

The Coalition--a national organization made up of Black rank-and-file workers and local union leaders from 30 national unions--urged Congress to reject the Brennan proposal and replace it with an immediate $2.25 hour minimum to cover all workers.

The CBTU steering committee includes William Lucy of Washington, D.C., secretary-treasurer of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO; Nelson Jack Edwards, Detroit, vice president of the United Auto Workers; Charles Hayes, Chicago, vice president of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, AFL-CIO; Cleveland Robinson, New York, president of the Distributive Workers of America and William Simons, Washington, D.C., president of the American Federation of Teachers Local 6.

Their statement follows:

"The Nixon Administration minimum wage proposal, submitted to the Congress by Secretary Brennan, is an inadequate response to a very basic need among low-wage workers--a need for higher wages and federal protections to offset the devastating impact that inflation and the economic policies of this Administration are having on working people.

"The minimum wage and overtime protections guaranteed by the Fair Labor Standards Act are especially important to Black and other minority group workers, because our people continue to cluster at the bottom of the heap economically. But white workers, women workers, all lower income people are being victimized by the Nixon plan--a plan which is anti-Black, anti-white, anti-brown and fundamentally anti-worker.

"The Nixon proposal would delay the full minimum wage increase until 1976. But nothing is being done to defer the damage done by wage controls and high prices of today.

"The Nixon proposal perpetuates the discrimination in the law against domestic workers, hospital workers, retail service workers and lowest paid members of our society. To deny them equity is absurd and painful.

"The 'youth wage' is a sly way to undercut low-wage adult workers in unskilled positions by making it more profitable for employers to hire the sons and daughters of the poor and pay them less. A 'subminimum' may not be damaging to the sons and daughters of the suburban middle class, but many teen-aged Black workers ae working to support their families at minimal levels. To deny them full pay for their work is to double their burden.

"We call upon the Congress to repudiate the Nixon-Brennan proposal.

The Coalition questioned Mr. Brennan's qualifications for high office during confirmation hearings not long ago. We wondered, given his Building Trades union background, if he would properly respond to the needs of low income and Black workers.

"Today we have our answer--a most emphatic no."

In Its Fourth Year

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest has begun its fourth year at San Francisco's Little Fox Theater, 533 Pacific Avenue and it looks certain that the show will continue through the summer.

Since the Sankowich/Golyn production of the Dale Wasserman play opened its record-breaking run in San Francisco on April 15 of 1970, it has been seen by more than 275,000 people and has given employment to some 100 actors and technicians.

The large cast is headed by Ruth Kobart, Joseph Whipp, Johnny Weissmuller, Jr. and Drew Eshelman, and includes Richard Poe, Norman Barry, Mimi Sarkisian, Cesar Villavicencio, Robert Kallus, Roger Larson, Janet McGrath, Leslie McMullin, Roy E. Andrews, Ivan Bookman, Bob Diamond, Charles Cooper and Tom Van Buren.

Director Lee Sankowich and producer Rudi Golyn are also responsible for the highly successful Cuckoo's Nest productions, still playing to capacity houses in New York and Boston.

Based on Ken Kesey's best-selling novel, the play deals with a free-spirited individual who has conned his way out of a prison work farm and into a mental ward.

There he encounters an authoritarian nurse who runs the lives of her patients.

Performances at the Little Fox are Tuesdays through Fridays at 8:30; Saturdays at 7 and 10:30, and Sundays at 7:30 p.m.

Magee Trial May Call Attention To Other Jailed Blacks

By Charlie Cobb

Washington (NBNS)--In the aftermath of the Ruchell Magee trial, as the immense data that the $1 million-plus trial has produced is reviewed, it appears as if the state of California has manipulated the state laws and legal procedures in an unprecedented effort to keep Magee behind bars.

Emerging from the trial records is a tragic history of miscarriage of justice that has victimized Magee for 13 years and reflects on the desperation of countless unnamed Black prisoners in America's jails.

In some of the most interesting testimony of the trial, Dr. Kenneth Clark, the noted Black psychologist testifying for the defense, described "diminished capacity" as a quality of the mind that develops among Black prisoners unjustly imprisoned, where uppermost on their minds is obtaining freedom.

Going into the background of Magee's case, Clark cited how Magee was imprisoned in the notorious Angola, La. prison for attempting "aggravated rape" in Franklinton, Florida, described as the "Klan-heel" of the Florida boot, a charge brought by the father of the white woman. Poor and Black, he suffered from both physical and mental assaults.

Weighing 92 pounds and standing 5 feet 2 inches tall, Magee was at age 16 the youngest inmate in the prison.

Three times he was placed in the isolation ward there to protect him from other prisoners.

He spent six years at Angola and got out only by promising to leave the state.

Clark pointed out that while Magee was at the Angola prison he began to define himself as a "slave."

It was also while he was at Angola that the records of his mental capacity--which have played an important role in his current trial--began to be created.

Magee was classified as dull and fit only for manual labor. He was forced to pick cotton. Clark said this contributed to his slave view of himself.

Magee could perhaps have left Angola three years earlier if he had agreed to leave the state. He refused because that was home. It took his mother and three more years of suffering for him to accept the offer.

Arriving in Watts virtually penniless and without friends, Magee got into an altercation at a bar and--along with another man--was charged with robbery. He was alleged to have stolen $10.

Held incommunicado, Magee was forced to confess.

His court-appointed attorney forced him to plead guilty before a jury in violation of the law.

Pleas of guilty are heard only before a judge without the jury present.

A jury must consider the case on the assumption of innocence until proven guilty.

He was given an "indeterminant sentence" at San Quentin and began attempts to appeal his sentencing.

He found his efforts handicapped by the fact that no one would provide a transcript of the trial.

The Appellate Court decided to review the charges against Magee because it turned out that charges against his co-defendant has been included in the charges against him. This time his court-appointed attorney pleaded him not guilty by reason of insanity--clearly not the case, in view of his growing skills as a "jailhouse lawyer."

United Nations, the United States Supreme Court and the California government in efforts to gain his freedom.

When Jonathan Jackson broke into the courtroom in 1970 to free his brother, Clark described the effect on Magee as "the shock of watching a miracle."

Because of the "diminished capacity" in the light of his oppression, Magee did not--and in fact could not--weigh the consequences of his attempt to escape, according to Clark.

With no plan, he took the opportunity to flee.

"I had a chance for some freedom," Magee said.

Although Magee took a pistol and shotgun while escaping, it was established at the trial that Judge Haley was killed by police fire.

In his testimony, Dr. Clark said:

"Magee had no alternative but to join in the attempt to gain freedom. To do anything else would have been a repudiation of his entire life and struggle.

"If this judgment is not correct, I say to this court and to my colleagues and to the public that all the work I have done has no validity."

Despite the overwhelming amount of contradictory evidence in the prosecution's presentation, considerable pressure was brought to bear on the jury to convict Magee.

Moses Sheppard, the Black juror who was the sole holdout against conviction for murder, is determined not to serve again.

"I'll never serve on another jury," he said in a recent interview.

Referring to the constant pressure on the jurors, he accused the state of playing a strategy of confusion.

Speaking of his fellow jurors, he said: "They didn't believe he was guilty of the kidnap. They didn't believe the state proved him guilty."

At no point did the jury ask for transcripts of the testimony, said Sheppard.

The jury was too concerned about the state, according to Sheppard.

"It wasn't their job to be concerned about the sate," he said.

Today's Army NEWS By SSG R. Cardwell ARMY RECRUITER

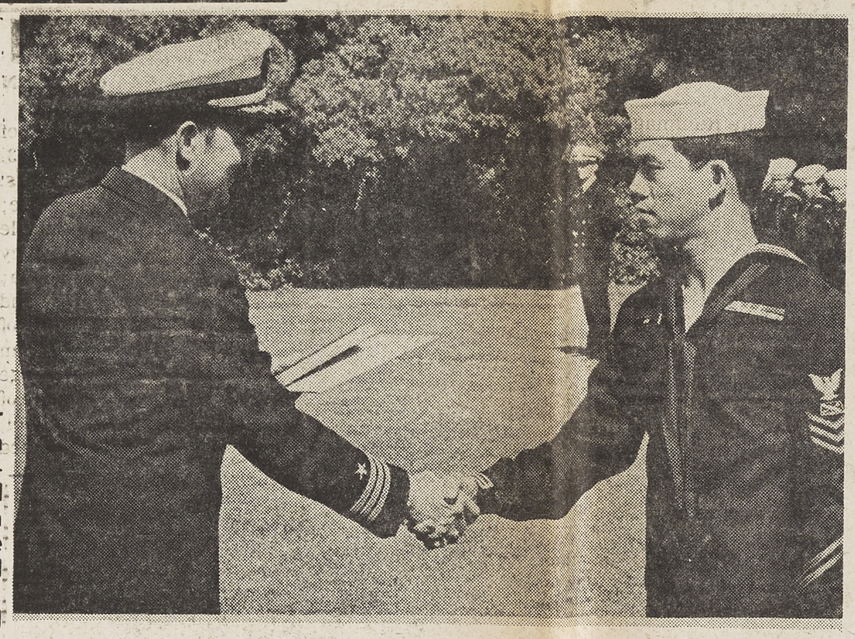
Hi everyone.

You know most people use the term "air conditioning" to mean cooling. But to a professional, it means controlling the temperature, moisture content, cleanliness and distribution of air to meet the requirements of a specific space. Controlled environments are important to us. In homes, stores, offices and theaters, air conditioning is used for comfort. But textile mills, printing plants, hospitals and computer centers simply can't function unless their specialized air conditioning requirements are met. What this adds up to is a lot of jobs. To be specific, there are more than 115,000 people employed in the United States to install and repair air conditioning equipment. And their numbers will increase very rapidly through the 1970's," according to the U.S Department of Labor Bureau of Labor Statistics.

People who install and service air conditioning equipment are called air conditioning, refrigeration or heating mechanics. There is considerable overlap among these three specialties and many workers are skilled in more than one of them. TODAY's ARMY will train young men in these fields if they enlist for them. Most air conditioning, refrigeration and heating mechanics start as helpers and acquire their skills by working several years with experienced mechanics. A growing number of employers prefer high school graduates who have had courses in mathematics, physics and blueprint reading. TODAY's ARMY will train them in these fields without any experience. Plus while they're being trained they will receive FREE housing, meals, complete medical and dental care and their starting salary is $307.20 a month. After completion of their course they are assigned to an Army post either in the United States or overseas.

TODAY'S ARMY has over 300 hundred good jobs that are available to young men and women that qualify for them. Also each job is guaranteed prior to enlistment.

Additional information about these jobs are available at the U.S. Army Recruiting Station, 431 Webster St. Monterey, or you can call 372-47/372-0553.



TOPS ——First Class Steward Augusto Dones Ruiz receives Sailor of Quarter Award from Commander Dale Meyer, Enlisted CO at Naval Postgraduate School during inspection ceremonies. Award read in part, "You have demonstrated the imagination, initiative and dedication which are indicative of type of men selected as the most outstanding assigned to this command." Petty officer Ruiz, attached to Commission Officers' Closed Mess at NPS also received plaque and two 'dinners for two' at local restaurants.

Enlists

David M. Aguero from Marina became a member of the U.S. Air Force in April under the guaranteed job program.

David enlisted in the Air Force as a Radio Communications Analysis Specialist. This is one of over 130 guaranteed specific jobs now being offered young men and women by the Air Force. There are no extra obligations to obtain such a job, according to TSgt Michael A. Simonson, the Air Force Recruiting representative from Salinas.

Following six weeks of Basic military training at Lackland AFB in San Antonio, Texas, Aguero will enter the Radio Communications school at the Goodfellow Technical Training Center in Texas. The training at Goodfellow will last a period of 21 weeks.

David is a 1971 graduate of Seaside High School, and attended Monterey Peninsula College for 1 year prior to entering the Air Force.

Service Signals

Airman Wayne D. Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel U. Patterson of San Jose, has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Illinois, after completing Air Force basic training.

During his six weeks at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Texas, he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Chanute for specialized training in aircraft maintenance.

Airman Patterson attended Campbell High School. His wife, Eileen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wammock of Del Rey Oaks.

Airman Julia A. Barnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Iowa M. Barnett Sr. of Seaside, has been assigned to Lowry AFB, Colorado, after completing Air Force basic training.

During her six weeks at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Texas, she studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Airman Barnett is a 1969 graduate of Monterey High School.

NPS Releasing 13 Employees

The Naval Postgraduate School will release thriteen custodial service employees by June 30 as part of a skills alignment program, according to Rear Admiral Mason Freeman, school superintendent. This action will permit a better balance of skilled and unskilled employees, but will not affect the total civilian employee level prescribed for the current fiscal year at the school.

The Postgraduate School plans to lend every assistance to those employees affected and aid them in obtaining future employment.

Meeting Announced

NCOA Ladies Auxiliary Monthly meeting will take place on Wednesday, May 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Main NCO Club. A regular business meeting will be followed by refreshments and a small-item white elephant sale.

All NCOA Wives are invited to attend. For more information call Mrs. Wheeler 242-2928.

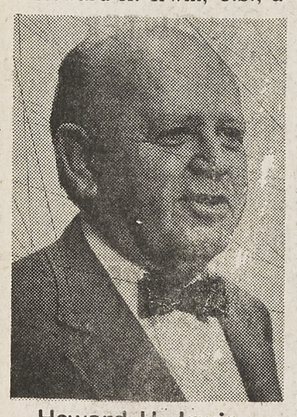
Compassion Is Topic Of Speech

Parents and youth alike need the compassion that has its source in divine Love, according to a lecture to be given in Pacific Grove on Tuesday, May 8th.

Howard H. Irwin, C.S., a



Howard H. Irwin

Christian Science lecturer from San Diego, will speak under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Pacific Grove, in the Grove Theater at 12:15 noon.

"Through compassion," Mr. Irwin says, "human consciousness feels the tender, healing power of divine Love. This goes beyond sympathy. It seeks out the cure for the suffering. The compassion we express dissolves the fears and hatreds of ignorance, and breaks down the barriers of prejudice."

Mr. Charles H. Walter of Pacific Grove will introduce Mr. Irwin. Local arrangements for the event are being coordinated by Mr. Herbert L. Booth, Chairman of the Lecture Committee.

In relating a number of healings through the power of divene Love, Mr. Irwin will emphasize the demand for deeply Christian motives action.

"Love requires us, he says, "to put aside cold conventionality and self-interest. It demands a deeper sense of maturity: the maturity of interest in others. This compassionate approach requires us to be honest in measuring our own lives according to the standards of the Churst. As we grow in love for God, we become aware of His love reacing out to all mankind, everywhere."

A native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Mr. Irwin has long been active in the healing ministry of Christian Science. He holds degrees from the University of Southern California.

The title of his lecture is "The Wonder of Love." The public is invited to attend without charge.

MPUSD Spring Music Festival Announced

About 430 student musicians from the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District will perform in the Spring District-Wide Music Festival in the Monterey Peninsula College Gymnasium this Friday, May 4 at 8 p.m.

David Hawley, chairman of the festival coordinating committee, said the public is invited to attend the free performance. The festival not only gives the public an opportunity to hear the results of parts of the district's music program; but gives young musicians a unique chance to perform, he said.

The program will feature a wide variety of musical forms and include both vocal and instrumental selections. Students from elementary, junior and senior high schools will participate.

Instrumental groups scheduled to perform, along with their conductors, include senior high school combined bands, conducted by William Clapper and Jack Bayes; the Junior High School Honor Band, conducted by LaDonne Sutter and John Daly; and the Elementary District Band, conducted by David Hawley, William Gee and Helen Rumrill.

Vocal offerings will include the senior high combined choirs, conducted by Richard Sheere and Clayton Freeman; the Junior High Honor Chorus, conducted by James Hull, Lucile Pedego, Marylynn Geren and Juanda Marshall; and the Elementary Honor Chorus, conducted by James Hull.

The program will also feature the combined chorus and bands, conducted by Haymo Taeuber.

Flower Show

"The Garden of Eden" is the theme of the year's Carmel Valley Flower Show at Tulercitos School multi-purpose roon. The show will be held May 5 from 1 until 7:30 p.m. The public is invited and admission is free.

You are cordially invited to bring entries of potted plants, cut flowers and/or arrangements on Friday, May 4 from 4 to 7 p.m. or on Saturday morning until 10.

Rummage Sale Planned

Mrs. Joe DeCosta, Pebble Beach, is chairman once again for the 4th Annual Young Life Rummage Sale.

Mrs. DeCosta expects this rummage sale to be another success and praises all the people of the community who have been working faithfully getting ready for this sale.

Young Life, an interdenominational Christian organization, had been working on the Monterey Peninsula for the past five years. It is active in the high schools and has been an asset to the community in the area of youth work. Seaside has a Young Life Club meeting regularly under the leadership of Wayne Martin and Don Hodson. Other schools in the area having Young Life are Monterey High School, Pacific Grove, Carmel, and Santa Catalina.

A special feature will be the refreshment bar and bake sale, both staffed by women from the Pacific Grove Methodist Church Young Life Circle. The proceeds from the bake sale will be used exclusively for raising money to send our local teenagers to one of the Young Life summer camps. The sale will by May 5th and 6th, at the old St. Angela's Church, corner of 8th and Central, Pacific Grove. The use of the building has been donated through Mr. Eugene Zimmerman, a local businessman. The hours of the sale are from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday the 5th and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday the 6th.

Must Learn To Share Road

If you think you're seeing a lot more bikes on the road these days, it's not just your imagination, says the California State Automobile Association. Eight and a half million bikes were sold in the United States in 1971, more than twice as many as in 1960. Everybody, not just kids, is getting on the bicycle bandwagon: health enthusiasts, ecologists, and commuters, as well as people who just enjoy bike riding.

All bicycle fans, young and old, should be mindful of one important point. Except where there are special facilities like bicycle paths, bicycles must share the roadway with motor vehicles. So, to make sure that you are not one of the increasing number of cyclist casualties, bone up on traffic rules before you go on the open road. Remember to drive on the right, signal for all turns and stops, watch out for the car drivers' blind spots, and keep yourself visible, especially at night. Make sure everyone in your family is a well-qualified bicycle driver before he or she cycles in or near traffic. Let's keep it fun and safe - no matter what you drive.

The safety poster entitled "Drive with Traffic" is one in a series distributed by the CSAA to schools in central and northern California and the state of Nevada.

Who To Watch At Laguna Seca

Not since the early days of the Can-Am before the McLaren domination has a series been so wide open as the upcoming L&M Championship which moves to Laguna Seca May 4-6.

This year the title and more importantly, $535,000 in prize money, will be up for grabs among 50 racing teams. Of these 50, at least a dozen or more are expected to be in heavy contention with extremely talented and successful drivers, new expensive machinery and top notch crews.

Among those dozen or more professional drivers who will bear watching at the Monterey raceway are:

Graham McRae - A New Zealander and winner of last year's L&M at Laguna Seca, McRae went on to take the series title. McRae, known around the circuit as "Cassius" for his less than modest opinions as to his driving ability, holds a masters degree in engineering and has come out this year with a car of his own design. In fact, he has already won the Australia-New Zealand Tasman Series for Formula 5000 cars for 1973.

Jerry Grant - Perhaps the hottest item to come out of the pre-series news this season is the fact that veteran USAC driver Grant will drive at Laguna Seca. You will remember that Grant came within a hairbreadth of winning last year's Indianapolis 500 in Dan Gurney's Mystery Eagle. Last year at Ontario Motor Speedway, Grant became the first driver to turn in an official qualifying lap at an average speed of more than 200 mph. At Laguna Seca he will drive Jerry Eisert's Lola T-300.

Peter Gethin - An Englishman who set new records in Europe with a victory in the first Formula 5000 race of the year, Gethin went on to an incredible win in the Race of Champions against the usually faster Formula One machinery. Gethin last raced in the U.S. as Denny Hulme's teammate on the McLaren Can-Am team.

David Hobbs - Hobbs was the 1971 L&M Champion. He's British, very professional, has a terrific new car and is hungry for another championship.

Brett Lunger - There hasn't been an American to win the L&M title since 1968. Lunger who is David Hobbs teammate in the Carl Hogan stable just could be the one to break that record. Young, wealthy, goodlooking, single and an ex-Marine, Lunger placed third last year at Laguna Seca and scored two first places in the series. Lunger is currently crisscrossing the Atlantic driving in two European series, Formula 2 and Formula 5000.

Jody Scheckter - Dubbed "the hottest sportsman to come out of South Africa since Gary Player," Scheckter, at 23, has built the reputation of running to win first place all the time. In a recent interview he said, "I am coming to the United States to win the L&M Championship and that's all there is to it." Scheckter, currently driving as a McLaren Formula 1 driver, is causing autosports writers to exhaust their bag of superlatives. He isn't known for his timid driving style.

Brian Redman - Redman has a team manager whose name just happens to be Jim Hall--yes, that Jim Hall. Hall, one of the most successful car builders in the world, has prepared a Lola for Redman to drive at Laguna Seca. It will be a gib plus for Redman. The Englishman finished fourth in last year's L&M Series. He's fast and he'll have a meticulously prepared care for Laguna Seca.

The weekend opens with practice on Friday. On Saturday qualifying and three regional SCCA races will be held. Sunday's activities will include one regional race, the two qualifying heats for the L&M and the main bout--the L&M Championship race which beings at 2:35.

Camping will be available akjacent to the track at Laguna Seca Ranch Campgrounds.

Advance discount tickets are on sale now at all Macy's, Sears and Roos/Atkins stores as well as Ticketron outlets and foreign car dealerships and parts stores.

Accidents Increase

"Fatal accidents involving two-wheel vehicles have continued to increase dramatically while all other fatal accidents have remained constant over the last few years," California Highway Patrol Commissioner Walter Pudinski said recently.

Fatal accidents involving motorcycles have increased 51.3 percent in the past four years while fatal bicycle accidents have jumped 95.5 percent.

"The significance of the upsurge of two-wheel vehicle accidents is that the fatal accident curve has remained virtually level between 1969, when there were 4427 fatal accidents, and 1972, when there were 4426. Fatal accidents in 1970 and 1971 actually showed a modest decline."

There were 394 fatal motorcycle collisions in 1969 compared to 596 in 1972. Fatal bicycle accidents which totaled 66 in 1969 soared to 129 in 1972.

"Motorcycles and bicycles are often diffficult to see," Commissioner Pudinski commented. "And with the upcoming summer months this problem will be compounded by growth in use of these vehicles.

"Individual responsiblity is required to lower these excessive figures. Bright clothing should be worn by the cyclist as an added precaution. Both motorist and cyclist should remain alert at all times while continuing to follow the rules of the road."

A photography exhibition with the theme, "Interdependence," opens Thursday, May 3, at the Marjorie Evans Gallery at Sunset Cutural Center on San Carlos at Ninth in Carmel.

It may be seen daily from 2 until 5 p.m., except Saturdays and Sundays. The gallery is also open for an hour before every performance at Sunset Theater.

On Sunday, May 13, last day of the exhibit, the United Nations Association of the Monterey Peninsula will hold a reception from 3 until 5 p.m. for those interested in meeting the photographers and the judges, who are instructors in the Monterey Peninsula College photography department.

Roger Fremier will award prizes from the UNA, Color Photo Synthsis, Dark Room Lab, Ken's Camera Shop and McKay's Cameras in Monterey, Camera Exchange in Pacific Grove, Camera Masters in Seaside and Camera Craft in Carmel. There will also be a prize for popular vote winner.

Like the LIFE Bicentenniel contest, "Declaration of Interdependence," which has been extended to July 4th, pictures will show interdependence between people, races and countries.

1972 L&M Champ To Race Sunday At Laguna Seca

He came to the U.S. last year "with dollar signs glazed on his eyeballs and various boasts pouring like lava from his mouth."

At least that's the way one driver described Graham McRae, who'll race at Laguna Seca in the L&M Championship May 4-6. When McRae, a New Zealander and reigning L&M champion, arrived here last year he was virtually unknown in the States although he had scored a stunning victory in the Tasman Series for Formula 5000 cars which is run in Australia and New Zealand.

Even those who knew McRae didn't give him much of a chance with his banged up Leda which was painted an indescribable shade of orange. To make matters worse at the beginning of the season his car with its conventional carburetor was pitted against principal challengers who were using fuel injected engines.

But from the season opener at Laguna Seca where he handily won both heats McRae went on to dominate the series despite a strong challenge at the last from Brett Lunger.

This year, McRae is making an even stronger move to keep his crown. An engineer with a masters degree he has designed his own car for the L&M Championship series, the McRae GM-1.

There are those, however, who are saying "No way," Englishman David Hobbs, the 1971 series champion and his teammate Lunger both have new, superbly prepared cars. Hobbs is probably the leading practitioner of the art of Formula 5000 racing and is fresh from a win at England's Silverstone Formula 5000 race. Lunger of Pomona is carrying American hopes for this year's series and is currently holding the lead in Europe's Formula 5000 series.

Add to that double threat, Jody Scheckter of South Africe, Peter Gethin and Brian Redman of England and about a dozen other international drivers and you have a series about as wide open as it can get.

The action begins Friday with practice and qualifying. Saturday will see more qualifying as well as three regional SCCA races. Sunday's L&M Championship action starts at noon with the first of two qualifying heat races to determine 24 top drivers who'll make up the field for the championship race which begins at 2:35.

Tickets are on sale at various outlets in Northern California including Macy's, Sears, Roos/Atkins and Ticketron outlets.

GETS BEST MILEAGE IN U.S. TEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Environmental Protection Agency tests conducted on cars designed to meet the 1973 air pollution standards showed Tuesday that the Datsun gave the best mileage—nearly 29 miles to a gallon.

The Datsun 1200 used a 71-cubic-inch engine, weighed 2,000 pounds, and was equipped with a manual, four-speed transmission. Its mileage total per gallon was 28.7, EPA said.

The highest fuel consumption was turned in by the 4,000-pound Ferrari-Daytona. Its 268-cubic-inch engine produced 6.3 miles to the gallon, EPA said.

Among other low fuel consumers, General Motors' Chevrolet Vega got 21.5 miles to a gallon using a 140-cubic-inch engine in a 2,750-pound car and a manual, four-speed transmission. Ford's Pinto got 21.4 miles to the gallon using a 98-cubic-inch engine and a manual, four-speed transmission in a car weighing 2,500 pounds.

The gas mileage tests were part of the 1973 auto pollution tests conducted on all cars sold in the United States.

According to the EPA, the cars were operated on a device that simulated urban driving conditions.

smoothly adjustments will be manifested that will place them in positions of complete harmony and happiness with their surroundings, their friends and themselves."

As I continued to read the plan for world improvement, it became more and more clear to me that the entire publication was just loaded with positive thinking. There was not a trace of negativity. Negative thinking was thought of as being in the "lower stratas" of being. "At no time are the guardians of Earth-dwelling people permitted to be active within the lower stratus for long periods of time; that would allow them to become weary or exhausted. They must remain continually at a high peak of joy and efficiency."

I have no intentions of reviewing the entire publication at this time. I only wanted to point out the fact that there are so many wonderful books, pamphlets, records, movies, etc., that are pleasing and educational for both young and old.

Speaking of records, Herb Sherman of the Record Cove, threw one on me the other day that simply blew my mind. In his rack of bargains I found the record "The Art of Living" by Wilferd A. Peterson. It is a record of twelve essays including "Everybody Sells." I purchased the record for 15¢ (fifteen cents). I have the paperback "The Science of Being and Art of Living" by Maharishe Mahesh Yogi. It is different from Mr. Peterson's, though, both are excellent. Herb had many more excellent bargains in this rack. I would seriously advise you to take a look the next time you feel like browsing through some good sounds.

There is no need of my continually telling you that our paper has developed the largest readership per volumn than any other newspaper on the Monterey peninsula. All compliments should go to our wonderful advertisers who make this possible. The convoy of autos slipping down Del Monte Boulevard the other night belong to Wester Porsche-Audi who has taken new residence in the Monterey Peninsula Auto Center in Seaside. Their new address is #1 Geary Plaza, Seaside, Ca. When you drop in to see Mr. Don Wester, mention my name. You WILL be taken care of.

Their Used Car lot will remain at the same address in Monterey for a while longer. Ask for Charlie Brown (he's a friend of mine.)

Speaking of friends (see how one subject actually blends into another?), Mr. Canadian, the newest manager at Montgomery Wards in Monterey, is definately extending his friendship. When the main department of the store has nothing to advertise due to reductions already in the prices, or other reasons, he turns me over to Mr. Rudder of the Sales and Service Department to inform the public of the many services in repairs they have to offer. They will service and repair any electrical item from a steam iron to the most complicated color T.V. - even the ones with the "works in a drawer." Check out Mr. Rudder and his staff. Try to give them a complicated repair job and be surprised.

Last Sunday I witnessed the longest and most They had approximately 135 units in six divisional categories. The crowd was not expected. There were no plans for a crowd of that size. They ran out of hotdogs early because they did not want to purchase too many. Pop's Gang at Pop's Restaurant was also selling hotdogs with the proceeds going to their church. They too sold out. They did not anticipate the standing room only crowd in their restaurant. The only businesses in the Marina Shopping Center who did not "clean up" were the businesses who did not open. People from all over California were in this largest parade ever, and it was their first visit to Marina and some of the parade participants were in Carmel before they realized they had passed the town. In fact one convoy of riders (horses) never did find Marina. I hope there was a parade in L.A. so they would have not made the trip for nothing. The Naval Postgraduate School Color Guards were so finely polished that it seemed as if each person would stab the man in front of him with his bayonet. They drilled in precision with the point of the boyonets less than two inches from the back of the man in front of him.

Well, the whistle blew, I must depart. Andy and I wish you all a happy Daylight Savings Time.

PUBLIC BUS TRANSPORTATION

On September 11, 1972, all the Monterey Peninsula Cities and the County of Monterey entered into an agreement with the Bay Rapid Transit Company to jointly pay a $3,000 monthly subsidy to Bay Rapid Transit. By mutual consent all of the parties extended the agreement, in February 1973, when it was to terminate, to September 30, 1973. Now Bay Rapid Transit has served notice of terminating Public bus service on May 31, 1973. The following proposal was submitted to the Joint Powers Agency for its consideration on Monday, April 30, 1973.

To acquaint the Seaside Post-News Sentinel readers with the proposal, it is included with this report:

Mr. Hugh Bayless, Chairmn
Joint Powers Agency
Monterey Peninsula Public Transit System
Carmel, California 93921

Dear Mr. Bauless:

During the past eight months, the public bus transportation dilemma has been endlessly discussed. Suffice it to say that the $3,000 monthly BRT subsidy, that is or was to terminate on September 30, 1973, amounted to a "breather" to enable other courses of action to be pursued.

Now the Peninsula Cities, Salinas, and the county are faced with the threat of abandonment of all BRT routes on some date on, or before, or subsequent to 31 May 1973.

Contained within the scope of the Joint Powers Agency is the responsibility to maintain public transportation by whatever means and organization that would be in the best interest of the entire Monterey Peninsula, Salinas, plus the County areas.

It would appear that an immediate solution to this regional problem, which if adopted by the Agency, could be implemented by May 31st current!

Rather than go on a fishing and begging expedition to the Urban Mass Transit Authority in Washington, D. C., we can collectively and rather inexpensively solve our own problem. However, this also assumes a genuine willingness for all to pull together in concert in this proposal or any alternative proposal.

The proposal for your serious consideration is as follows:

1. The JPA immediately undertake the formation and establishment of a JPA Bus Transit Authority.

2. Concurrently submit an application to the Public Utilities Commission to operate (and expand to include Marina and Fort Ord) the franchise BRT is so desirous of abandoning.

3. The JPA levy on its members, using formula for present bus subsidy, an amount to raise $100,000 (Note: the JPA by using Salinas' "umbrella" could also immediately qualify for 50% reimbursement - or $50,000 - under the provisions of SB 325. This qualification would exist as soon as paragraphs 1 and 2 supra are accomplished.)

4. Purchase twenty VW Minibuses at $3,500 each for a total of $70,000. Fourteen to sixteen of these Minibuses could efficiently accomplish the same routes and service now in existence. The other six could be used to augment/expand present services.

5. JPA provided the organization, management and financial accounting. Per contract with Young Adults for Action, YAFA would furnish drivers on a sustained basis. YAFA is willing to undertake this with qualified drivers.

6. The Minibuses come with a 2-year warranty; normal maintenance; i.e., gas, oil, plugs and points would be considerably less expensive in relation to standard buses. This latter point may seem to deal with minor details; however, the overall operation of a JPA Transit Authority, using Minibuses, can be accomplished on a break-even basis. Initially, a continued $3,000 monthly subsidy might be necessary but with expanded service it is believed the Minibus operation could show a profit.

7. Twenty Minibuses would cost $70,000. The balance of the $100,000 - or $30,000 would be for one time capital outlay for office and parking area rental plus a minimum amount of tools necessary to perform 1st and 2nd echelon maintenance services.

Again, you are urged to give this proposal serious consideration for adoption. Our bus transportation problem has been unresolved far too long.

Sincerely,
Bernard J. Dolan, Jr.
Mayor of Seaside

Bob Wood Reports

I know it sounds somewhat peculiar in this day and age, but smoking tickets may become as commonplace in California as parking violations, if pending legislation to ban the use of tobacco in specified public places is approved by the Legislature.

Introduced by Assemblyman John Briggs (R-San Bernardino County) the proposal would ban smoking in state and local public hearing rooms; require most restaurants and theatres with seating capacities of over 50 to designate at least half of their areas exclusively for non-smokers and limit smoking on public transportation carriers to specified areas. Smoking would also be prohibited in the Senate and Assembly chambers and in treatment areas of private and public hospitals.

As of this writing, bars that do not serve food were excluded as the author had to concede on this point to obtain a fourth vote on the seven man committee.

Violation of the law would be classified as an infraction, punishable by fines ranging from $10 to $50. The proposal is the product of a growing concern for the health hazard smoling poses for the non-smoker. According to the Surgeon General of the United States, cigarette smoke stimulates respiratory allergies in children and adults, causes acute irritation and taxing of the heart and lungs of the non-smoker be loading the air in enclosed areas with carbon monoxide.

The American Medical Association estimates that there are at least 34 million Americans who are hypersensitive to cigarette smoke, and that the health among them with respiratory conditions are threatened by tobacco fumes.

Recently we read where research at the University of California has shown that smoke in an enclosed area, such as a room, drastically alters the composition of the air, causing lethargy, headaches, and general mental inefficiency.

Since smokers represent less than half of the adult population, Assemblyman Briggs contends it is only reasonable that the State should protect the rights of non-smokers to breathe uncontaminated air.

As I See It

BY MEL VERCOE

Maybe there is a God. Sometimes things happen that are quite difficult to explain. The ammunition train, for example, that was destroyed by a fire and a series of explosions last week, might well have been an act of God, especially if he has a sense of humor, because although no one was seriously injured there was a very strange coincidence. The weight of the bombs destroyed was exactly the amount of bombs we have been dropping each day on people in Cambodia. It is nothing less than hilarious that news reporters refer to the train explosions as a "tragic disaster," and every newspaper has been loaded with the gory details, while the same amount of explosive power deliberately dropped on some people we don't even know, just to satisfy the whim of a corrupt dictator, is lucky to get one line in an obscure back page account of how we are helping someobdy achieve self-determination.

So, maybe there really is a message there, and if not there, then it is also a strange coincidence that the number of acres of land being flooded and temporarily put out of production by the Mississippi River is approximately equal to the number of acres of land we took out of production with defoliants in Southeast Asia. Add to that the tragic plight of President Nixon, who ordinarily goes to Camp David with a bunch of advisers but who this time took along only one trusted friend, his Irish Setter, to help him decide on a course of action. I think it was a very good decision.

On another matter entirely, I heard a very interesting account of how an urban renewal agency managed to get some people to accept offers from them for their property that they would never otherwise have accepted. It seems they notified these people that they would have to vacate by a certain date and that they should go ahead and make other arrangements for housing. The, after some of them had made down payments on other housing, on the strength of the urban renewal directive, the whole thing was put off to an indefinite future date, leaving said victims holding the bag with payments to make on two properties and in at least two cases leaving no choice but to accept an unsatisfactory settlement from the agency. Just one step above Watergate tactics.

Incidentally, I would love to have someone challenge the above account, because I once worked for that particular agency, and from personal knowledge of urban renewal tactics I strongly urge any community to resist to the hilt anyone who wants to promote urban renewal though the standard route.

The Seaside Park & Recreation Department is featuring the following activities this week:

Talent Show - The city-wide elementary school Talent Show is scheduled Friday, May 4, 1973 at 7:30 p.m. at King Junior High School. Auditions were held at each elementary school, with the winners going to the City Finals. All Parents and friends are encouraged to attend.

Children's Drama Workshop - All children, ages 7-12, are invited to attend a children's drama workshop, Saturday mornings from 9:30-11:30 a.m. The workshop is free to the public.

Meals on Wheels - Senior Citizen monthly luncheon will be cancelled this month because of illness in the staff. The next luncheon will be held June 6, 1973.

Summer Employment - Last day for applications and interviews will be Friday, May 4th, for summer employment. Pick up applications, at City Hall or the Seaside Youth Center, 1185 Wheeler, Seaside, and return the completed application to the Seaside Youth Center, at this time an interview time will be given.

Camp Amigos Schedule

Camp Amigos, opening its 6th season, is a registered non-profit organization attracting children of all economic backgrounds to participate.

The application period for attendance at Camp Amigos will begin May 1. Application forms will be available at Peninsula schools.

Fee is $1 per child for one week of daycamp at the Carmel Valley location and $2 per child for one week of camping at Big Sur.

The camp will open in July at the All Saints Episcopal Day School in Carmel Valley for the younger age group. The overnight camping continues the program at Big Sur for the older participants.

Two one-week sessions have been scheduled for the valley location: July 9th - 12th and July 16th - 20th for seven to nine-year-olds.

Two one-week overnight camps at Big Sur have been scheduled for children in the ten-to-twelve-year age group for July 30 to August 3rd and August 6 to 10.

Medical clearance is required of all campers. A free medical clinic is scheduled for Saturday, June 9 at Highlands School on Sonoma Avenue in Seaside from 9 a.m. to 12 noon for all youngsters.

Transportation by bus is offered free to Seaside and Monterey campers.

The new camp directors are Bob and Lynn Brooks of Carmel. Bob is a Physical Education and Industrial Arts instructor at Carmel High School. He is presently coaching the track team and has served as an assistant football coach for the Padres. He has a Masters degree in Pysical Education and he and his wife have had considerable experience working with children.

Parents and friends who have volunteered their time to make Camp Amigos a reality include: Mrs. Kennedy White, President, Mr. Leon Panetta, Vice President, Mrs. Glen Stoops, Treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Williams, Asst. Treasurer, Mrs. Peter Dyer, Secretary, Mrs. David Schrady, Coordinator, Mrs. Theodore Calhoon, Asst. Coordinator, Mr. George Schroeder and Dr. Rolf Johnsen, Fund Raisers, Mrs. Bruce Matson, Mrs. Glen Myers, Mrs. John Van Zander, and Mrs. Ed Netherton, Food Cordinators, Mrs. James Stweart, transportation, Mrs. David Banks, supplies, Mrs. James Langley, and Mrs. Edward Gillooly, publicity, Mrs. Alan Washburn, and Mrs. John C. B. Smith, Jr., in charge of camper selection, and Mrs. Jay Hudson, medical.

Also serving on the board are the Rev. Arthur Cunningham, Mrs. Thomas White, Mrs. Madlyn Thomas and Lisa Meckel.

Attendance fees are deliberately low to allow children of all economic backgrounds to participate. Interested parents who wish to contribute more than the camping fee to the camp fund, a registered non-profit organization, are encouraged to do so.

ORDINANCE NO. 431

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SEASIDE RELATING TO BUSINESS LICENSE TAXES

The City Council of the City of Seaside does ordain as follows:

Section 1, Section 3-328.1 of the Seaside Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

3.328.1: The business license tax for vending machines shall be computed as follows:

If annual gross receipts are:

FROM	TO	BUSINESS TAX
$ 1	$ 1,000	$ 5.00
1,001	2,000	10.00
2,001	10,000	20.00
10,001	20,000	65.00
20,001	30,000	115.00
30,001	40,000	165.00
40,001	50,000	215.00
50,001	60,000	270.00
60,001	70,000	325.00
70,001	80,000	385.00
80,001	90,000	445.00
90,001	100,000	505.00

Section 2, Section 3-328 (h) of the Seaside Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

3-328(h): Pin Ball Machines and Juke Boxes: Every person possessing or maintaining, on premises owned or leased by him, any mechanical game, pin ball machine, music box, juke box, or similar game or machine operation solely for amusement shall pay a license tax of four percent (4%) of gross receipts.

Section 3. This ordinance shall take effect as an urgency measure in order to preseeve the public health, safety, and welfare. The facts supporting such urgency are that the state legislature has enacted a stature (Ch. 817, Stats. of 1972) which prohibits general law cities from imposing a business license tax on operatoors of coin operated vending machines on other than a gross receipts basis. The city currently taxes such machines on a per machine basis. In order to bring the city's ordinance into compliance with state lawt in the first month following the effective date of the state statute it is necessary that this ordinance take effect immediately.

PASSED AND ADPOTED by the City Council of the City of Seaside at a regular meeting duly held on April 19, 1973, by the following vote:

Packers' Attendance Impressive

One swallow doesn't make a summer, so the old saying goes, and, of course, one successful home stand doesn't guarantee a profitable year. However, both the Salinas Packers and the California League cannot help but be impressed with the attendance during the first two home series of the loop's newest entry.

The Packers drew 5,799 fans for the first six home dates, an average of 967 per opening. Projecting that figure over the entire season would mean a total of about 60,000 which was surpassed last year by only two clubs, San Jose and Fresno.

Opening night saw 1,207 in attendance despite threatening weather all evening and substantial rain less than two hours before game time. The Sunday afternoon double-header drew 1,268, the largest crowd to date. Packers' owner Herb Fields said that to "see people come out in the rain and the cold is unbelievable."

His sentiments were echoed by General Manager Les Patrick, "I'm very, very pleased. I think the threat of inclement weather Friday night held down our opening crowd from 600 to 800. The turnout in that weather was unbelievable."

The fans have also been enthusiastic. California League President Eddie Mulligan said that when the Packers came from behind opening night to win the game it sounded like they'd just won the World Series.

The excellent turnouts for Salinas' first week back in the California League are also remarkable in light of the short time the club had to awaken interest and sell tickets, less than two months from the time the franchise was awarded to the opening of the season.

Dr. Whitehead To Speak At Meeting Sunday

Dr. Carleton Whitehead, minister of the First Church of Religious Science, Chicago, Illinois, will be the special guest speaker at the Religious Scienc e Society of Seaside on Sunday, May 6 at ten o'clock at the Academy of Music, 1137 Broadway, regular meeting place of the Society.

Dr. Whitehead is well-known to a large Peninsula audience, since he served for sixteen years as minister of the Church of Religious Science in Monterey. He and Mrs. Whitehead, who is editor of Creative Thought magazine for Religious Science International, will be re-visiting the Peninsula to attend the Asilomar conference of Religious Science International.

According to Mrs. Adine Williams, leader of the Religious Science Society of Seaside, Dr. Whitehead's topic will be "If I Can Believe." All are welcome.

On Wednesday evenings, Mrs. Williams conducts a class in Science of Mind at Del Monte Manor and on Thursday afternoons an hour for expansion of consciousness, at 1189 Phoenix Avenue, Seaside, Further information about any of the activities of the Society may be had by calling 394-3451.

Kessler To Present Show

hree evenings of mime theatre by Jan Kessler will be presented by the Pacific Grove Art Center on May 3, 4, and 5 at 8:30 p.m. in the Art Center's main gallery, 568 Lighthouse Avenue.

The programs will range from pieces in the zestful, poetic mode of the 500 year-old Commedia dell' Arte to modern satirical sketches. Music for the mime shows will be composed, arranged and performed by Dora Kessler. David Rouslin appears as assisting mime artist.

Kessler, who has recently become a movement coach and artistic consultant with the San Francisco Ballet Company and whose last performance was for Joan Baez at her Institute For The Study Of Non-Violence in Palo Alto, is one of the recent staff additions to the Pacific Grove Art Center's rapidly expanding program of community activities. Tickets are available at the Art Center. Phone 374-2208.

Along with future mime shows and Kessler's movement classes, Art Center director Jean Darragh has added classes in Yoga, weaving, modern dance, ballet, piano, painting, photography, pottery, sculpture, seascape and watercolor painting, grafiology, serigraphy and workshops for children in pupperty, theatre, music and art.

Last Concert Is Sunday

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra and Monterey Peninsula Choral Society join forces for the final concert of the 1972-73 series Sunday, May 6 at Monterey Peninsula College, sym-auditorium, and Monday, May 7 at Sunset Auditorium, Carmel. Both performances begin at 8 p.m.

Haymo Taeuber, Music Director and Conductor of both groups has scheduled Leonard Bernstein's "Chichester Psalms" and the Brahm,s German "Requiem" for the 100-member choral group.

Patrick Duval, the Choral Society's "Singing Sheriff" who was heard in last season's "Carmina burana" with his penonmenal vocal range, sings the role of the boy soprano in the "Chichester Psalms."

Norma Jean Hodges, soprano and James Tippey, baritone, are the soloists for the Brahms "Requiem." Both singers are favorites with local audiences for previous roles with the Choral Society.

The Choral Society received high praise for its recent Palm Sunday performance of the "Messiah," and is popular for its Christmas concerts at Carmel Mission Basilica. With their repertoire of the larger choral works, they are recognized as one of the major choral groups of the west.

Tickets may be purchased at local music stores on the Peninsula and in Salinas, at the Symphony office, Carmel (624-4125) and at Recreation Offices on military posts. They will also be available at the Box Office, the night of the performance.
